

Heritage Network Symposium

January 2015

Welcome

Nick Higgett
De Montfort University
and

Bob Johnston
University of Sheffield

before the last traces are gone....

Heritage Network Symposium January 2015

Nick Higgett
De Montfort University
nph@dmu.ac.uk

Main Investigators

Nick Higgett - De Montfort University
Christine Garwood - Formally University of Hertfordshire
Philip Riden & Susanne Seymour - University of Nottingham
Martin Phillips - University of Leicester
Fiona Hackney - Falmouth University
Kim Marwood & Bob Johnston – University of Sheffield
Hester Kapur - Newark Heritage Barge
Wendy Freer - Railway & Canal Historical Society
Chris Powis – Friends of Welford Road Cemetery
David Devanny – Project Administrator
Teodora Kuzmanova - Web Administrator

Original Aims (Feb 2013)

- To develop a network to disseminate and share research findings and experiences from Heritage projects funded by the AHRC's Connected Communities (CC) programme.
- To provide support and guidance for communities involved in the co-design and co-production of heritage research.

Connected Communities Heritage Network

www.heritagenetwork.dmu.ac.uk heritagenetwork@dmu.ac.uk

<https://www.facebook.com/HeritageNetwork>

@HeritageNetCC

before the last traces are gone....

Aims (2014-15)

- To consolidate and extend the Network
- To develop web site content
- To include other (non CC) AHRC heritage projects e.g. Digital Transformations and heritage groups
- To liaise with AHRC CC leadership fellows, HLF and NCCPE

before the last traces are gone....

Phase 2 2014-15 Aims

- To hold a second symposium
- To produce a set of proceedings based on the symposium

Phase 2 Progress & Changes

- Cardiff CC Showcase July 2014
- Community Workshop at Leicester
15th Decemeber 2014
- Symposium at Sheffield 16th January 2015
- Web site, FB and Twitter updates

Final Thoughts and Discussion

- Future direction and funding of the Network
- Improvements and new content for the web site
- Invitation to submit Research
- Extending the Network